A reseller engine that makes TRAVEL ERP different

Turn agencies, creators and community leaders into a measurable distribution channel for your packages.

1	Publish a package	Create it once with the operator base price.
2	Partner creates a branded link	The partner selects the package and adds an approved commission.
3	Traveler books	The customer sees the final price on the branded storefront.
4	Revenue splits automatically	The system records operator revenue, partner earnings and platform fees.

Partner storefronts

Every partner gets a branded storefront and package pages with your platform attribution.

Link-level commissions

Set a different commission for every partner-package relationship while protecting your base price.

Automatic attribution

Bookings through partner links are credited correctly without manual reconciliation.

Transparent earnings ledger

Partners and admins see pending and paid commissions with booking context.

Predictable customer pricing

Platform fees are deducted from partner commission instead of unexpectedly raising traveler prices.

Direct booking support

Bookings without a partner remain direct operator sales with zero partner commission.
